

Irma 4H Wheat Club Have Successful Achievement Day

The Irma 4H Wheat Club held their Achievement Day Wednesday, November 24 in the lunch room of Irma school.

The officials representing the Department of Agriculture were Mr. E. H. Buckingham, District Agriculturist of Vermilion, who was in charge of judging the samples; Mr. J. S. Duncan, D.A. of Wainwright and Mr. Edwards D.A. of Sedgewick.

A total of 20 samples were exhibited. In his comments after having placed them, Mr. Buckingham praised the Club for their fine efforts; the effects of the rust and frost were plainly visible, but that had not stopped the members from showing a nice uniform sample free of weeds and foreign materials.

After Mr. Buckingham's remarks the members took part in a grain judging contest, which was followed by a list of "true or false" questions to be answered. A short business meeting concluded the afternoon activities.

Shortly after 6 p.m. the members attended a banquet sponsored by the Board of Trade and held in the United Church basement. A goodly number of parents and business people helped bring the total attendance at the banquet to 57. Irma W.A.S supplied the food and served a very delicious meal.

In the absence of Ronnie Prior, president of the club, Bob Dunbar, vice-president, acted as主席 and introduced following speakers: Albert Firkus, member of the senior committee, with a toast to the ladies; Ross McFarland Jr., speaking on behalf of the Board of Trade; Mr. Edwards, who stressed the importance of parents taking an interest in the young people's club work; Ole Nissen reviewing the past season and urging the members to attend the winter meetings and work out the lessons provided by the Dept. of Agriculture; J. S. Duncan our D.A. who announced the winners.

Best Samples:

1. Bob Dunbar.
2. Eddie Herder.
3. Nathan Fuder.
4. Warren Fuder.
5. Sigmund Gulbraa.
6. Charlie Baska.

Best Attendance at Meetings:

1. (tied) Ronnie and Glen Larson.
2. (tied) Lorraine and Marian Smallwood and Bob Dunbar.

Best Folder:

1. Charlie Baska.
2. Bruce Willerton.
3. Marian Smallwood.

The club received following donations from the business people of Irma:

P. E. Jones Co. 10.00; J. C. McFarland and C. 10.00; NWU 10.00; Irma Food Market 5.00; Fred Jack Hdwe. 5.00; Irma Co-op 5.00; Central Garage 5.00; Gration View Hotel 5.00; Imperial Lumber Co. 5.00; Hutchinson and Co. 5.00; Bank of Montreal 5.00; Carl Anquist 5.00; Leo's Truck Service 5.00; Glen's Truck Service 5.00; Barber Bros. 3.00; Pendleton's Garage 2.00; Irma Machine Works 2.00; Bob Hansen 2.00; Club Cafe 2.00; Rustand's Garage 1.00; Irma Drugsore 1.00.

The business people of Irma have thus shown that they are taking a keen interest in the development of the future farmers in the district, and the club extend our sincere thanks. We also thank the school for the use of the lunchroom for our exhibits.

Club members are asked to remember, that we will meet regularly on the first Monday of each month during the winter months. There are lessons to work over and in January there will be election of officers for the new season.

Mrs. Peter Lucas of Jasper has been visiting here at the home of her mother, Mrs. J. Osmond.

EASTER ECHOES

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Askin have moved to Edson where Mr. Askin will work for a trucking business.

Celebrating a birthday last week with a party of school chums was Miss Joan Patterson.

Congratulations to Yvonne Crab on being the lucky winner of a doll raffled by the W.I.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Worthing and family have been holidaying at Rosetown.

The FUA Round-up in this district recently has been progressing very successfully.

Christmas Issue December 17

The annual Christmas issue for the Irma Times will be dated Friday, December 17.

All notices, correspondence, and dates for holiday events, and advertisements should be in that issue and sent in as early as possible.

Mr. Riley will have the usual feature selection of Christmas Greetings suitable for the holidays for your consideration.

Thanks for your co-operation in making it a real good Christmas issue.

WINS FRIG

Miss Vivian Archibald was the lucky winner of the Frig drawn for at the dance on Wednesday.

TURKEY SHOOT

There will be a Turkey Shoot at the farm of M. C. Ambler on December 8, commencing at 1:30 p.m. 7 miles north and ½ mile east of Irma, on north side of road.

Northern Nuggets

There will be a Ronald party (Tupperware) at the home of Mrs. Edgar Jones Saturday afternoon, December 4. Anyone interested is welcome.

The W.L.'s recent Bezistar and Tea in town was very successful and the ladies wish to thank those who helped in any way and those who came and participated.

Mrs. Percy Miller and Mr. Alber Hinton have been named as delegates from the Triangle Chapter to the convention in Edmonton next week.

Mr. Mike Lamb, who arrived from B.C. several days ago has been staying with Mr. Adam Scott while renewing acquaintances in the district.

Oldtimers who remember Miss Agnes Lynn, formerly of the Scotstown district will be sorry to hear of her passing in Victoria, B.C., recently.

Wedding Bells

MATTHESON — HOFFSTETTER

Miss Delores Yvonne Hoffstetter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Hoffstetter, became the bride of Mr. Donald Kenneth Mattheson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mattheson, all of Edmonton, at a recent double-ring ceremony performed by Rev. A. King in the Highlands United Church.

For her nuptials the bride wore a gown of white nylon tulle over satin, with a red-olive lace of lace. The bridegroom held in place her Chapel veil and she carried a bouquet of deep red roses.

Mrs. Warren Burks was her sister's matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Maureen Magee and Miss Ethel Mattheson. They wore gowns in shades of shrimp pink and aqua blue respectively and carried colonial bouquets of chrysanthemums.

Mr. Herman Hoffstetter and his best man and ushers were Mr. Arnold Both and Mr. Gordon Akers.

At a reception in the Corona hotel, Mr. Norman Reynolds proposed a toast.

Mr. and Mrs. Mattheson will make their home in Edmonton.

Out of town guests at the wedding included Mrs. E. Kahnem, Medicine Hat; Mrs. G. Burks, Estevan; Ore.; Mr. and Mrs. Norm Reynolds, Spruce Grove; Mr. and Mrs. L. Atkins, St. Albert; and Mr. and Mrs. K. Confin, Irma.

BARS — SAHL

A double-ring wedding ceremony was solemnized recently at Scarboro United Church when Miss Beulah May Sahl, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Sahl of Moose Jaw, became the bride of Mr. David Layton Bars of Irma, Alberta. Rev. Dr. S. Parsons performed the ceremony in which the bride was given in marriage by Mr. Avery Sahl.

She wore an ankle-length gown of champagne taffeta with matching headress and veil of illusion net. Her bridal bouquet was a cascade of bronze chrysanthemums.

The maid of honor, Miss Sheila Elliott, wore an ankle-length gown of bronze taffeta and carried a nosegay of yellow baby chrysanthemums.

Mr. Robert Denison was best man and Miss Joy Popperwell sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "I'll Walk Beside You."

At the reception held at the Club Sky Room, Mr. Gordon Ward proposed the bridal toast. Later the newlyweds left on a honeymoon trip to the U.S. On their return they will live in Calgary.

The bride is a graduate in household science from the University of Saskatchewan and the bridegroom is a graduate in geology from the University of Alberta.

Remember the sing-song at the Irma United Church on December 6.

Glen-Coa Gleanings

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Larson and children visited at Gwynne and Edmonton last weekend. Mrs. Withall and Francis accompanied them to Gwynne.

Misses Viola Lee of Edmonton and Betty Osternru of Port Arthur, Ont., were weekend guests at the O. Likness home. Both girls are attending CLBI at Camrose.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Halvorsen spent a few days visiting relatives at Calgary recently.

Mr. Mike Holte of Kingman was Gordon Hollingen's visitor over the weekend. Gordon has gone to Edmonton and Stephen is with him.

Mr. E. R. Erickson accompanied by Mr. L. Hollingen drove to Edmonton on Friday last. Misses Evelyn Erickson, Avis Saare and Pat Pedel returned home with them for the weekend, and incidentally to take in the Luther League Box Social on Saturday evening.

The Box Social sponsored by the Luther League was a howling success (literally). A fine number of good sports came out to take part in the many fun-provoking games. The baskets were really something to behold. We spied a box complete with goals and Eskis and the Grey Cup printed lavishly upon it. There were original manny and papery darkie dolls presiding over their baskets. Even St. Nicholas was depicted on his sled driving Rudolph. It proved to be an enjoyable and profitable evening for the Luther League.

On Sunday evening the Lentless League went to Trinity Lutheran to present a special program centering about the Pocket Testament League and the "One" magazine for Christian youth.

IRMA HIGH SCHOOL HI-LITES

The Irma high school basketball team journeyed to Wainwright on Friday, November 12 to have an exhibition game between their rivals at Wainwright.

The boys stepped onto the floor first. They put up a grand fight against the much bigger and more experienced players of the opposition. Sonny Archibald made some fine shots to make the score 19-30 in favor of Wainwright. We feel, however, the boys have the makings of a fine team.

The girls went right onto the floor first to have a little with the Wainwright girls. The girls were without the help of Esther and Pie Allard who were playing on the opposition team. The game consisted mostly of "jump balls"; however, it was a close fight from beginning to end. It was tied 7-7 at half time and when the bell went to end the game, the score was once again tied 15-15 all.

The referees were Arnold Enger and his friend Brian Staples who are taking Physical Education at the U. of A.; The boys did a very good job at refereeing and we hope they will do this another time when they are home. The enjoyable evening was brought to a close by Wainwright serving a lovely lunch.

Southern Sayings

Seems like the weatherman is giving us a little moisture for next year, we certainly got our share.

Next Strawberry Plains, W.L. meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Dawson on December 16. Hostesses, Mrs. Johnston and Mrs. Tomlinson Roll call, Exchange of Christmas Gifts, Topic, Citizenship by Mrs. Dawson, Program, Mrs. Johnston, Raffle, Mrs. Reber.

Ivan Johnston and Bud Dawson visited at their respective homes last week-end.

Mrs. Tweedy, our Health Nurse, will be holding Clinic here on December 17 instead of the fourth Friday this month.

Local News

Congratulations to Leslie Ballantine, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ballantine of Irma, who has won the Governor General's Medal for grade nine students in the Wainwright Provost Division. This is the third time in the past 4 years that the Medal has been awarded to an Irma pupil. There have been other times too, when this medal has been awarded to Irma and district. It must prove something. If Edmonton is the Grey Cup City—Irma is certainly the Governor General's Medal Town.

The 3rd annual Festival of Carols will be held in the School Auditorium on Wednesday, Dec. 15 at 8 p.m. Admission: Adults 25c. Proceeds to go to the Auditorium Chair Fund. Those who have attended these Carol Festivals in the past will remember the fine quality of the music presented. Mrs. Glasgow tells us that she has eleven music classes this year and that each class has 2 items in preparation for this event. There will also be carol singing in which the audience may join. Anyone having carol sheets as given out by the Edmonton Journal, please bring them that night.

Mr. and Mrs. Jensen of Hythe, Alta., are spending the winter here at the home of their daughter, Mrs. G. Pendleton.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

The chickens were laughing

—BY BASCOM BIGGERS III

SUSAN waved a last goodbye, even when her sister and brother had gone. She had to go, and could not see it, and they went back into the empty house. They were gone and she had not gone with them. She clinched her little fists tightly, as though they could hold the tears in check, and said quietly something to do. Her sister had not been able to get through the dishes before they left. The kitchen floor. That got the broom.

From out back, beyond the trees, came the cackle of the chickens. Before, the sound had kept her company, and she had listened to chickens chattering over some tremendous joke. Now the chickens only heightened the loneliness, laughing at her because she had stayed behind. Even the twitter and chirp of summer birds were hateful this morning, as they lampooned the silence.

The piping of the glassy faucet kept a steady beat to the swish of her broom. Last night she had laughed at the dripping faucet which none of them could stop. Now she noted it so much she could yank it from the wall. Nothing would stop alone.

The tears brimming her eyes broke loose, and she sat down on the kitchen stool and cried. They had begged her to go with them.

"It won't cost you anything but for your food," her sister had said, "and it'll be a wonderful month's vacation in Colorado, a place you've always wanted to see."

"Go on, honey. I'll manage here all right," George had said.

And she had wanted to go. Oh, she wanted to go! But she said, "Well, I think I'd better not."

She had to leave, however, during every day of the week her sister was there. And she said it this morning with George gone to work and just her there to tell them goodbye. She said it choking back tears, until they were gone and pretending she didn't really mind too much. But she did. And she resented George because she hadn't gone.

It was all right for him. He went to town to work every day there were no chores to do and he had company. But she, who had been all alone every single day, with the nearest neighbor a mile away, The car didn't really span the difference, because when she visited a neighbor it was like that same dropping in. And often there was never time. Oh, at times like these she hated this place and almost hated George too for putting her way out here.

Wiping her eyes she went down the hall to the bedrooms, half dressed, and the beds were still made. Of course they weren't. The rumpled masses of white sheets and night clothes made the rooms seem an untidy mess.

She turned from them and hurried into the living room. This room she was used to, with the beds. She didn't care if they never got made. Today she was going to do only what she wanted to do. She was going to get away from this house and all its loneliness.

Grabbing the keys from the table, she pulled the door closed behind her and ran out to the car. She was a little frantic in her movements, as though she were trying to escape something. The car purred warmly. She slipped it into first and slid out of the seat, ready to roll away.

Now that she was moving, she wondered where she would go. She didn't want to talk to anyone just now. For one crazy moment she thought of dashing after her sister, but then she realized she would go after all, that the house could run itself.

Again resentment against George burned her thoughts. He should be able to get along without her for a month. Why hadn't he insisted that she go? He should have known her sense of duty wouldn't let her do otherwise.

She passed a flaming brushstroke and a thought prickled at her mind. Had she left the stove on? In the excitement of telling her sister goodbye, had she or hadn't she taken the time to turn off the coffee? Of course the house was in no danger, but it would crack the new glass coffee pot if all the water had boiled over. And they were trying to save money. George had said he hoped they could afford enough to take a vacation together toward the end of the summer. She had forgotten all about that.

At a fork in the road she turned the ear around quickly and headed back home. She had to be certain that the stove was off. She had forgotten all about that vacation, and George had planned. Or at least, she thought she had forgotten.

The idea of a vacation with her sister seemed completely unimportant in comparison. It wasn't the house or water or the coffee that was being able to get along without her that had made her refuse to go. It was this vacation with George. If she had gone now she couldn't have gone with him. And a vacation with him was what she wanted more than anything.

Pulling into the driveway, she stopped the car, jumped out and cut the stove off after all. She smiled and took the coffee pot from the stove, putting it on the window sill. Which reminded her, she had wanted to make some new curtains for the kitchen but the flowers feed her. She had been planning that when her sister arrived and got everything out of order.

She would sew those curtains this morning, but first she would make the bed. And when she headed for the bedroom she heard the children beyond the trees laughing at a very funny joke.

Salmon will get assistance upstream on spawning runs

OTTAWA.—Tank trucks and a watery ski-jump will help the Capilano river's cohoes and steelheads salmon bypass a 280-foot high dam north of Vancouver.

The tank trucks will tote the outward through this avoiding a crushing impact on water at the foot of the dam.

The twin measures for conserving the Capilano's salmon runs were described in the federal fisheries department's magazine, Trade News.

Conservation steps became necessary with the building of the giant dam near the Capilano's mouth, which has prevented the salmon from spawning in the ocean, about two-thirds the way down, a projection will send water and salmon shooting down the river. The river runs down from the mountains lining the north shores of Burrard Inlet, north of Vancouver.

Flow diverted

During construction of the dam, the river's flow was diverted through a tunnel in the canyon wall. This fall the tunnel will be closed.

Coho and steelhead bound upstream to spawn will be diverted by a steel fence stretching across the river into a 300-foot-long concrete fishway which leads to a series of three concrete pools.

Pedigree Hereford cattle for Regina

About 20 of the best British pedigree Hereford cattle will be shipped to Canada to take part in an international show and sale which will be held in Regina, Sask., in July 1965, as part of Saskatchewan's centenary celebration.

This was announced this week by Mr. Jack Gibson, president of the Hertford Herd Book Society, at the society's annual meeting at Hertford, England. Mr. Gibson said that the world-wide demand for pedigree Hereford cattle has never been greater than it is today.

Canadian women could be 'perfume-shy' says expert

REGINA.—Canadian women may be perfume-shy, and Roland Haumont, Canadian representative of a famous French manufacturer, would like to find out why.

Mr. Haumont is touring Canadian cities to find an answer to the situation. But he has a few ideas of his own. For one thing, he admits high prices may be a factor.

High prices cannot be remedied easily, he says. Manufacture of perfumes is a costly process, involving skilled laboratory technicians, purchases of costly government taxes.

Expensive packaging

Another factor is the elaborate packaging. Experience has shown that purchasers insist on the trimming.

BANK EDUCATION

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—A little girl marched into a branch of the big Union Planters bank and handed a teller a dollar bill.

"Would you change that for me?" she asked.

"Would you change these into dimes?"

Back she came a few minutes later with the dimes changed.

When she returned with them, too, the teller asked, "What in the world are you doing?"

"Learning to count money," she said briskly, and retired with her half dollars.

Perfumes come from one of three basic essences, orris root, ambergris and musk. To these are added the fixatives, such as alcohol and a little water. Some perfumes are applied better to fabrics than to the skin which may turn it rancid. But some perfumes react the other way.

Russian aristocracy introduced the use of perfume with fur before World War I, each odor complementing the other.

THEN add:

A solid cream mixture and stir in 3 well-beaten eggs. Stir in 2 c. once-sifted bread flour; beat until smooth. Work in 2 c. granulated sugar and 1 c. shortening; cool to lukewarm.

Meanwhile, mix in a large bowl ½ c. lukewarm water, 1 t. granulated sugar; stir until sugar is dissolved. Sprinkle with 1 envelope Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast. Let stand 10 minutes.

Then add the cream mixture and stir in 2 c. once-sifted bread flour; beat until smooth. Work in 2 c. granulated sugar and 1 c. shortening; cool to lukewarm.

Divide dough into 2 portions and turn out one portion onto a floured board. Roll out into a 12" square; fold back to front and from one side to the other. Repeat rolling and folding 3 times, then roll out again lightly if it becomes sticky. Seal edges of folded dough and place in a greased 9" x 13" cake pan and cut out the center with a fluted cutter.

Divide remaining dough and place on a floured board. Fold back to front and from one side to the other. Repeat rolling and folding 3 times, then roll out again lightly if it becomes sticky. Seal edges of folded dough and place in a greased 9" x 13" cake pan and cut out the center with a fluted cutter.

Prick remaining dough with a fork and place on top of the cake. Place a thin layer of cream mixture on board and treat second portion of dough same as first portion. Cover and let stand 1 hour. Preheat oven to 350°-375°.

Bake in a moderate oven, 350°-375°, while preparing the following syrup: simmer together for 15 minutes 1 c. sugar, 1½ tps. grated orange rind, ¼ c. butter or margarine and ½ c. orange juice. Quickly pour hot syrup over the cake. Turn cake over and bake 15 minutes longer. Stand baked cake on cake cooler for 20 minutes, then loosen edges and gently shake from pan.

EDMONTON REPORT

By Donald F. Smith

EDMONTON—Although overshadowed by the week-end's thrills and excitement of the Edmonton Eskimos' narrow victory in the Grey Cup football game, the deliberations of Alberta's Social Crediters last week probably will have more lasting effects on the average citizen.

Presenting a picture of unity practically throughout the two-day convention, delegates to the Alberta Social Credit League's annual meeting were sparked to sharp controversy over proposals to allow farm produce marketing boards. The issue has been appearing more frequently recently, particularly because of the series of meetings being held throughout the province by the Alberta Federation of Agriculture, which has been told by the government that an indication of general approval by farmers on the proposals would bring legislation faster.

After considerable debate on the issue of whether enabling legislation should be passed to allow establishment of such boards, the convention approved a resolution to that effect. It had been submitted by the Stettler SC constituency association.

Arguments against it included the contention that it was designed by socialists and that there is no definite assurance that farmers want marketing boards. Some delegates objected that the boards would have too much power, being able to regulate sizes and types of crops.

"I hate to be under a board, which can tell me when I am to sell my stock," one delegate said. "Suppose I am forced to sell because of winter conditions."

It was reported during the last legislature session that the subject received considerable study by the Social Credit members in their private caucus. Undoubtedly it will be the source of more study and debate in caucuses prior to and during the next session starting February.

Agriculture Minister L. C. Halmrast reviewed for convention delegates some of the marketing board operations in other provinces, indicating in most cases the producers are satisfied with the results.

Although the party's national leader, Solon Low, said he did not think Social Crediters need to worry about the Liberal party's conventions, many of last week's convention speakers de voted time to repudiating recent Liberal charges and statements.

The president of the British Columbia Social Credit League, Noel Murphy, led off by taking Federal Mines Minister George Prudham to task for telling the recent Alberta Liberal convention that Social Credit spells ruin for Canada, if allowed to go unchallenged Mr. Murphy pointed to the party's record in Alberta.

He also said Mr. Prudham was wrong when he said a recent B.C. Social Credit meeting called for cursive dismissals and replacement by SC appointees.

There were criticisms of the civil service, he said, but no calls for dismissals and SC appointments.

Health Minister Dr. W. W. Cross charged that Mr. Prudham was playing politics when he called for an investigation to discover why the Alberta government did not use all the health grant money the federal government was prepared to pay in the last six years. He claimed the federal minister failed to point out most of the other provinces were behind Alberta in the percentage of the federal provision used.

Claiming the Liberal party is notorious for political expediency and has a different story in every part of Canada, Premier Manning said that while Alberta's Liberal Leader, J. Harper Prowse, was violently opposing gas export from the province, the federal Liberals were chiding the Alberta government for delaying it. Referring to remarks of Liberal leaders that investors would not have risked a cent in Alberta had it not been for the stability of the federal government, Mr. Manning said a federal finance minister had said the oil in Alberta would do little good because it was in the wrong part of Canada. "Is that the way you induce investment?" the premier asked.

Elected president of the Alberta league was Orville A. Kene

WORLD OF WHEAT

Searle Grain Co., Limited

THE INTERNATIONAL WHEAT AGREEMENT

Since Britain's withdrawal from the International Wheat Agreement at the April, 1953, meeting of the Council, there has been a good deal of conjecture whether or not she may be persuaded to again participate when the present term expires. Only recently the chairman of the International Wheat Council, on a visit to Canada, said that he was confident that Britain would take part in the negotiations for a renewal of the I.W.A. and suggested that, in his opinion, the public attitude in the United Kingdom toward withdrawal from the Agreement was changing.

Whilst Britain is not likely to refuse to enter negotiations for a new Agreement, it is a foregone conclusion that she will only consider renewing her membership under conditions which will be advantageous to her. Since her withdrawal from the I.W.A. prices have declined well below the maximum and the opinion has been expressed that this was primarily due to the fact that, as the major importer of wheat, she had relieved herself of any obligation under the Agreement. Unless change in the supply situation or therefore, there is no material the price structure of the Agreement, it is difficult to believe that Britain will reverse the stand she has taken for free world trade in wheat and again will join the pact.

Her absence from the present one, in fact, has probably increased her bargaining power and for that reason, although she may be willing to negotiate, there will doubtless have to be some hard thinking done on all sides.

PREPARE NOW FOR CHRISTMAS

There is no last minute rush for Mrs. Wise when it comes to Christmas meals — no feverish whirl of frantic preparation. She believes in having time to enjoy her family on Christmas Day.

A little planning goes a long way toward making Christmas more enjoyable for all, and especially for Mother. Miss Joyce Lewis, Nutrition Specialist, Alberta Department of Agriculture, has some suggestions. Alter them to suit your needs, she says, but do make yourself a plan.

Before December—Make dark Christmas cake, plum pudding and mince meat.

Early in December—Make out menus for Christmas Eve, Xmas Day and Boxing Day.

Check recipes and make out a market list for perishable and non-perishable foods to be purchased.

Shop for non perishable foods and store them conveniently for use as required.

Mid-December—Make light Christmas cake, shortbread and other Christmas cookies that store well.

Week before—Prepare cranberry jelly. Make pie paste and store in refrigerator.

Three or four days before Christmas—Make Christmas candies, salad dressing, pudding sauce.

December 23—Make mince pies. Prepare crumble for turkey dressing. Check all food supplies.

December 23—Get turkey ready to stuff. Wash salad vegetables. Make fruit juice cocktail. Prepare breakfast fruit.

Christmas Day—Finish stuffing turkey, prepare vegetables. Cook dinner. Reheat pudding and mince pies. Enjoy the day with your family!

West Seed Identification

This office would be pleased to assist farmers in the identification of weed seeds not known to them that are in grain that they are contemplating on using for seed. Don't sow seed that contains weed seed unknown to you as in this way you may be introducing a noxious weed on your land. In buying grain for seed from local or other source that has not been government inspected, check scrupulously for weeds present. Also obtain a germination test as this is the only sure way to find out what grain is suitable for seed. Take one pound sample, count the weeds present, and decide for yourself whether or not you should use such grain for seed. Always check for presence of Tary Buckwheat.

Use of Cod Liver Oil

Cod liver oil has many uses on the farm at this time of the year. Everyone is familiar with its value in maintaining human health. This same applies to farm animals. Farm animals, particularly the young growing stock, thrive on Cod Liver Oil supplementation. Sows fed cod liver oil give birth to healthy litters. Young pigs fed cod liver oil develop strong bones and are growthy and plump. Poultry fed cod liver oil resist disease and maintain high production. Such conditions as cold, coughs, lack of appetite, unthriftness, rickets, pneumonia, etc., from which many farms suffer during winter months, can be avoided to a large extent if these animals are fed cod liver oil. Cod Liver Oil should be more generally used on our farms. It makes the difference between healthy growing animals and ones that are unthrifthy or sickly. It can be easily procured at your drug store, from your veterinarian or through your feed agent. When purchasing it, make certain that it is fresh stock and that the concentration of Vitamin A and D are labelled on the container.

Good Bulls Available

What type of a bull are you using at the present time or will be using next summer? If he is a Grade or a scrub or an inferior purchased, then why not purchase a quality purebred sire for your herd. There are breeders in this area that have a good supply of good quality bulls. This would seem like an opportunity for the farmer with a grade or a scrub herd to procure himself a good bull to improve his herd. This office has several listings of bulls for sale and we would be more than willing to assist you with selections of a bull. If you are contemplating on a change, don't wait any longer, as these bulls may soon be disposed of. Remember, you can apply through the Cattle Improvement Policy, which offers 10 percent assistance to eligible farmers on price of a suitable purebred bull. Application forms and other details of this policy are available through your District Agriculturalist or Livestock Branch. Remember also, the sire is half the herd and the cheapest way through which you can improve your herd.

MANAGEMENT OF MINES AND MINERALS IN ALBERTA

The Department of Mines and Minerals has the administration and management of all mines, minerals and natural resources vested in or belonging to the Crown in the right of the province.

The Department consists of three administrative and two service divisions. Responsibilities of the administrative divisions are as follows:

MINERAL RIGHTS DIVISION

This division is responsible for the administration and disposition of sub-surface natural resources held by the Crown by lease, reservation, license, permit or other agreement and for collection of fees, rentals, royalties, bonuses and other revenue from Crown mineral rights.

MINES DIVISION

This division is responsible for the administration and enforcement of rules and regulations relating to safety and working conditions in mines and quarries and also examination and certification of personnel.

MINERAL TAXATION DIVISION

This division administers the Mineral Taxation Act which provides for the collection of an acreage tax from the owners of all freehold mineral rights in the Province. In areas where a mineral is being produced a tax is also levied on the mineral by assessment according to the statute.

In addition the following Board report to the Minister of Mines and Minerals:

The Petroleum and Natural Gas Conservation Board consists of a chairman and two members, with headquarters at 514-11th Avenue West, Calgary. The Board administers all matters pertaining to drilling, production and conservation of oil and gas resources of the Province.

The Right of Entry Arbitration Board also consists of a chairman and two members with headquarters in the Land Titles Building, Edmonton. When a mineral operator is unable to acquire the surface necessary for the effective working of the mineral from the owner, and occupant where the land is occupied, the Board upon application by the mineral operator may grant right of entry and determine the portion of the surface rights that may be used by the mineral operator together with the compensation payable to the surface owner and occupant.

What's new with Chevrolet? Everything!

Great new V8 — two new 6's.

New "Turbo-Fire V8" delivers 162 h.p. with an ultra-high compression ratio of 8 to 1. There are two new 6's, too—the new "Blue-Flame 136" with Powerglide (optional at extra cost) and the new "Blue-Flame 123".

Easier steering, stopping, clutching

The new Chevrolet steers with ball-bearing ease, thanks to new Ball-Race Steering. New Swing-Type Brake and Clutch Pedals operate with a light pressure of your toe.

... and Chevrolet's got that long, low "let's go" look. Longer looking—and lots lower, the new Chevrolet has the spirit-ed look of a sports car. There's plenty of glamor inside, too.

Tubless tires as standard equipment

Proved tubless tires give you a greater protection against blowout... deflate more slowly when punctured... and are much more resistant to other causes of tire failure.

Chevrolet and General Motors have started something—by taking a whole new look at the low-cost car. Here are young ideas that are all rolled up in the most glamorous package that ever wore anything like a Chevrolet price tag!

This is the car that began with a great idea—the idea that a low-priced car should be built that would have the style, the performance, the comfort and convenience features, and the fine quality "feel" of high-priced cars.

Lots of car buyers have dreamed about such a car. But until Chevrolet and General Motors sat down and tackled the job it couldn't be done. It took a long time, but they designed and built a car to fit the dream... the motoramic Chevrolet for 1955.

When you think about it, it makes sense that only the world's largest motor car producer could have done it. Chevrolet and General Motors have what it takes—plus a desire to make your dreams come true.

Come in and meet the motoramic Chevrolet—more than a new car—a NEW CONCEPT of LOW-COST MOTORIZING.

Hardy Icelandic sheep said best for Canadian Arctic

OTTAWA.—Hardy Icelandic sheep are the most likely to survive in the Canadian Arctic, says Arni G. Eylands, assistant secretary of Iceland's agriculture ministry.

Mr. Eylands indicated in an interview Iceland might provide a number of sheep if Canada goes ahead with plans to start sheep breeding in the Far North. Improvement in living standards there has said Icelandic sheep were exported to Greenland 40 years ago for breeding purposes, and the animals have been thriving there ever since.

Yields fine wool

Mr. Eylands said Icelandic sheep might prove successful but not as much as the Icelandic type which he said, provides a finer wool and more mutton. Some of the wool crop is exported to the United Kingdom.

Mr. Eylands is visiting here and among other things will discuss the problems of sheep breeding in colder climates with Canadian officials.

Health greatest worry producer

There are many people who worry over their health, their finances or their businesses or their domestic affairs. For many, the subject that gives most trouble is that of health.

Usually, there is some symptom that they translate into terms of one of the more serious diseases. They then begin to worry about it but they do not do the logical thing and go directly to the doctor who could either confirm their fears and then help them with treatment, or, if those fears were groundless, reassess the whole situation.

Worries can contribute to illness—it can help cause fatigue, indigestion, and sickness that only the psychiatrist can treat. It must be remembered that most diseases are curable or, at the least, their effects can be lessened if the doctor is given a chance to diagnose and treat them in the earliest stages.

She can be taught to write and read; To knit and sew, and attend each To knit and sew, and attend each She can be taught all cookery lore; Good simple arts and many more, If these only takes the trouble Her knowledge soon would nearly double.

But who can teach her grace and charm? The art of keeping clear of harm? Teach her to know when friends are true; That time to play and the time to do; Teach her beware of rash love's spell; The love and joy no heart will tell? How to avoid pitfalls and strife? Now who will teach her Naught but life!

Funny and Otherwise

"Have you told Mr. Smith he's just become the father of triplets?"

"Not yet—*he's shaving!"

"Patient: 'How can I ever pay you for your kindness to me?'"

"Doctor: 'By cheque, money order, or cash!'"

"Was my husband intoxicated when he came home last night, Mary?"

"I didn't notice anything, mama. He only asked for a mirror to see what he was."

"One of Levinsky's customers was notorious for his slowness in meeting liabilities. In desperation Levinsky sent the following letter:

"Sir—Who bought a lot of goods from me and did not pay me for them until I agreed to pay in sixty days?—You Who didn't in six months—You, Who is a scoundrel, a thief and a liar!—Yours truly, Al Levinsky."

A customer was sitting in a barber's chair when a man burst into the shop shouting: "Hi! Mr. Smith's house is on fire!"

The customer shot out of the chair, dashed for the door, and ran like a mad up the street. After a time he stopped suddenly. "Gosh," he gasped, "my name isn't Smith!"

Fifty rabies cases reported

EDMONTON.—The Alberta rabies control committee has warned that the danger of rabies is not over.

The committee reported about 50 confirmed cases have occurred in the province since September 1953, with half of them in the Athabasca area in the province's northeastern corner and the remainder scattered across northern Alberta.

The cases closest to Edmonton were two in the Westlock area 50 miles north. The disease spread into Alberta from the Northwest Territories in 1952.

These angelic figures made of stiff paper and painted in bright colors will be found most useful at Christmas time. The pattern gives directions for making a variety of sizes and styles. Some stand six inches high holding a song book. Use them for table decorations. There are also several sizes for tree decorations. And for hand-painted greeting cards that just fit an ordinary envelope. Each size is indicated on the pattern from tracing the outline of the figures to the fascinating part of using ordinary water colors to coloring the figures and remaining white space of the designs. This pattern is $2.00 and may be ordered separately at 35¢ or it will be included in the Christmas Decorations. Postage of five standard size patterns for $1.50 postpaid.

Manitoba to open office in London

Manitoba will open an industrial development office in London, England, at the beginning of the new year, it has been announced by Hon. R. D. Turner, minister of Industry and Commerce.

Mr. Turner made the announcement at Dauphin to delegates attending the annual convention of the Manitoba Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Turner emphasized that the province has no intention of setting up an office of its own in England. It will be, instead, a businesslike operation designed to fit the needs of Manitoba.

The minister was convinced, he added, that "if we want to do a selling job in the United Kingdom and Europe we must do it ourselves."

At the same time, he said, a Manitoba office could get the support and co-operation of other Canadian agencies now located in London, including banks, railways and federal government departments.

Man., Sask. get $76,000 hospital aid

OTTAWA.—Hon. Paul Martin announced that Manitoba and Saskatchewan will receive more than $75,600 in federal grants under the terms of the National Health Program.

The Birtle District Hospital at Birtle, Manitoba, will receive a $26,313 grant. The funds will help meet the cost of replacing the present hospital building which is now considered obsolete. The new building will house 16 active treatment beds, a six-bassinette nursery, operating and delivery rooms, x-ray and laboratory facilities, a community health centre, and an eight-bed nurses' residence.

A grant of $24,227 will also go to Manitoba. It will be used to assist in the acquisition of x-ray equipment for the St. Boniface General Hospital. It is expected that the new equipment will enable the hospital to improve its diagnostic facilities and to provide more extensive training in the use of x-ray facilities.

Speeding car dangerous car

Fast driving may seem like fun but it is hazardous to the driver or to the pedestrian. The car that is driven at top speed is not under control—limits are established by authorities who know traffic conditions. Even on a long apparently clear stretch of country road, it isn't safe to take the chance that an impulsive dog may dash out or that unlikely blowouts may occur. At a high rate of speed it is usually impossible to bring the car to a stop in time to avoid an accident. The roadside signs that tell you the speed limits are there for your protection and also the other drivers.

Saskatchewan is to receive a $26,150 grant which will be used to strengthen the rehabilitation programs at the Regina and Saskatoon Physical Restoration Centres. These centres provide rehabilitation facilities for disabled persons for whom the provincial health authorities are responsible.

Since the end of the war British Columbia's factory output has increased in value by more than 100 percent.

Golden Fish 'n' Batter

Heat shortening (it should be at least two inches deep) to 370° in a deep-frying pan. (If a fat thermometer is not available, test fat temperature with a cube of bread—the bread should brown in 60 seconds). Cut 1 pound fillets of any suitable fish into serving sized pieces and sprinkle lightly with salt. Mix and sift 1 cup of all-purpose flour (or 2/3 cup self-rising all-purpose flour), 1 1/2 teaspoons Magic Baking Powder and 1/2 teaspoon salt in 1/2 cup very cold water and beat until batter is very smooth. Dip fish pieces in batter and then fry in heated shortening, turning once, until golden. Drain thoroughly on absorbent paper, sprinkle lightly with salt and keep hot until all fish has been cooked. Yield—4 servings.

Seed Grain

Nearly half of the samples taken in the seed drill survey this spring were graded as rejected because of weed seeds. This is a very sorry state of affairs and it is important to the grower that is had on a year when seed was plentiful we can expect that it may be terrible next year if seed is scarce.

Farmers would be well advised to locate their seed supplies now and have it cleaned properly this winter. After all, there is not much use spending money to work your land an extra time or two to kill weeds if you are going to turn around and sow seeds next spring.

Chemical For Weed Control

We have no fully effective chemical for control of Taryck Buckwheat and Wild Buckwheat. 2,4-D is useful as it will set these weeds back badly if used at the right stage. Low volatile esters were widely advertised this year for buckwheat control, however they were not enough better to justify the extra cost. They were also harder on the crop than standard 2,4-D. Creep Feeding Little Pigs

Experiments at the University have shown that pigs do better if they can start to feed while still on the sow. This can usually be done quite easily by putting a small trough behind a guard rail so that the sow cannot get at it. There should also be fresh water available to the little pigs. Usually pigs will start to eat at about three weeks of age as at this time the sow is not giving as much milk as they can use.

The creep feed ration should be very low in fibre as small pigs cannot stand much fibre. Crushed, hulled oats or oat chaff with the hulls sifted out mixed with crushed wheat or bran and some commercial pig starter is usually quite satisfactory. Drop into the office if you want to discuss a ration in more detail.

F.U.A. NOTES

EDMONTON, Nov. 29 — Farmers' Union of Alberta "Roundup Day" exceeded expectations. It was started here today by W.D. Summers, director of the one-day membership campaign. Sponsored by unusually mild weather, for the time of year, and backed by a record turnout of some 8,000 canvassers, the drive began under near-ideal conditions.

Interest in the campaign was apparent from the extent of the area covered. Canvassing was carried on from the 9th parallel to the 57th parallel.

The Keg River farming community undertook to canvass township 101, over 800 miles due North of the International border.

Results are coming in slowly from country districts where "foremen" are reported to be holding back final returns until "mop up" action had been finished.

As at office closing time to day, 70 percent of the foremen had made returns. Most of these reports were interim ones. A gross membership of over 18,000 of which 9,800 were from family heads, indicated possibility of achieving an overall percentage of 65 percent—or 14 percent above the 51 percent objective.

It was pointed out by the drive director that it was not safe to conclude that late returns would equal first percentages. "If the remaining foremen do only fourths as well as those who reported first, we will not only be satisfied, but we shall have achieved our long sought goal of 51 percent, or better," he told the weekly press.

Henry Young, FUA president, issued a statement to express thanks to those participating in the drive. He said: "While the final returns from FUA Roundup Day are not by any means up to date, it is evident that it has been a remarkable and striking success. Reports so far received cover many thousands of members."

The FUA office is literally swamped with returns from the drive. While it will probably be several weeks before anything like final results can be announced, its success is already apparent, he added.

The most outstanding feature of Roundup Day was the great work done by the Foremen and Riders who did the actual work of getting members in. Their enthusiasm and energy is mainly responsible for the results shown. On behalf of the FUA, I want to thank all who took part in Roundup Day. I would also like to ask all those who have not quite completed the canvass in their areas to stay on the job till it is completed," Mr. Young urged.
